Research and Innovation Conference

20 June 2007 1 Carlton House Terrace, London, UK

Organised by
The Younger Members
Committee

The Institute of Materials, Minerals & Mining on behalf of

The Institute of Materials,
Minerals and Mining

Run in association with

Research and Innovation Conference

“provided a good, safe and friendly environment for gaining experience of presenting and posing questions”

“provided excellent networking opportunities”

Introduction

The Younger Members' Committee of The Institute of Materials, Minerals and Mining is inviting contributions from Industrialists and Researchers for a one-day Conference.

Engineers, scientists and technologists are the leading exponents of new materials and technologies. This event in particular has been organised in direct response to a survey of members to provide an opportunity to practice presentation skills, gain valuable conference experience, present findings and network with other industrial sectors.

Aim

This conference is an opportunity to bring together engineers, researchers, industrialists and technologists in the early stages of their career to exchange ideas, develop presentation skills, increase their knowledge and develop industrial and academic links.

Scope

The themes for the conference are open to the many aspects of materials, science and technology represented by the divisions of the Institute of Materials, Minerals and Mining:

- ceramics
- composites
- light metals
- plastics and rubber
- steel
- biomaterials
- casting
- automotive
- electronics
- packaging
- surface engineering
- mining
- petroleum and drilling
- applied earth sciences
- minerals processing
- extraction metallurgy

Accepted presentations will give a 15-minute oral presentation using Powerpoint (Powerpoint is the preferred format). All participants will be expected to submit a written version of their presentation and will receive a hard copy of the conference proceedings.

The registration fee will include morning and afternoon coffee/tea, lunch and closing drinks reception, delegate pack and proceedings.

Prizes to be awarded for the best paper and oral contributor.

Venue

The conference will be held at the Institute of Materials, Minerals and Mining headquarters at 1 Carlton House Terrace, London, SW1Y 5DB.

Full details on how to reach the venue and accommodation will be issued prior to the event.

“very high standard of presentations”

Call for Presentations

Anyone interested in submitting a presentation or poster should submit a 200 word abstract preferably via e-mail no later than 23 February 2007 to Dr Siobhan Matthews, ric@iom3.org
