

Andy Birtles

Mr. Andy Birtles, Director of ANB Mining Ltd., is a mining engineer, Professional Engineer and a Chartered Engineer and has specialised in the coal mining sector since 1979 and in the metalliferous and heavy minerals sector since 1999. Mr. Birtles has extensive experience in coal mine operations, planning and design (both opencast and underground), metalliferous mine planning and design (both surface and underground), and heavy minerals mine planning and design. He has been involved in the valuation of mining projects and operations and due diligence exercises involving initial public offerings (IPOs) and the development of Public Reports and Technical Reports.

He has also been involved in coal research and development and in lecturing activities at tertiary educational facilities.